SUMMARY

I am a web developer looking for software development job opportunities in Portland, Oregon. I recently completed a web development program focusing on test driven development, pair programming and object oriented design in Ruby on Rails and Javascript.

EXPERIENCE

PLANET ARGON

01 / 2014 - Present

Junior Developer

Worked as a Ruby on Rails developer for internal and client applications. Some of my projects included building a gem that estimates the amount of time it will take to read a piece of text, and integrating Google Analytics API data into the company blog. I also did bugfixes on existing apps and used test driven development to make them more maintainable.

ChickTech
